BIODIVERSITY ROLES IN PLANTS PROTECTION IN ARID REGIONS (BRPP-AR)

October 18-19th 2023
(Biskra, Algeria)

MANIFESTATION

The Scientific and Technical Research Center on Arid Regions (CRSTRA), represented by its plant protection laboratory team, will organize the 1st international webinar on the evolution of research in the field on the biodiversity and its state due to the climate change observed in recent years. Climate change as well as overexploitation of natural resources have negatively affected biodiversity. These causes must be the subject of a controversial debate, imposing a process to propose programs of protection and development. The main objective of this scientific event is to promote exchange and dialogue between researchers and to establish lasting contact between them through plenary conferences in addition to the oral and poster communications. Oral and / or displayed communications will be selected from various topics on plant, animal and ecosystem biodiversity, their healthy and the means to preserve and protect them.

Topics

- Biodiversity in ecosystems and agro-ecosystems
- Biotechnology and biosafety
- Pest, predation and parasitism in agro-ecosystem
- Pest control, monitoring and innovation.
